Dear nathalie,

Today I had an emergency meeting about Emily and Tiger who have been reported as of today to the Buro of Child Abuse. The school called them since both kids expressed themselves about their sexuality and Emily had also told the teacher that her mother hit her with a stick. I have informed the father who was part of the meeting by phone. He is now very concerned and would like to talk to you as soon as possible. Kindly let him know how and when to contact you.

I will call you tomorrow.

thanks

Beste Dominique Heidweiller, moeder van Emily,

Volgende week kan ik helaas niet op woensdagavond afspreken, ik heb alleen op maandagavond nog twee plekjes. Denk maar even of het je juist kan helpen een en ander wat op een rijtje te krijgen, zodat het wat rustiger in je hoofd wordt of dat het juist een extra belasting voor je zou zijn. Laat me maar even weten of je wel of niet gebruik wilt maken van het extra aanbod volgende week maandagavond. Anders zie ik je woensdag de 31ste 's avonds om 20.30.

Goed dat je al bent gaan informeren bij Altra, dat hebben wij ook gedaan, maar laten we dat rustig bespreken als wij elkaar zien. Er is in ieder geval een wachtlijst voor Altra/Boddaert hulp van een aantal maanden. Ik ben nog bezig met het inwinnen van verdere informatie bij Bureau Jeugdzorg over aanmeldingsprocedures etc. Maar we hebben alle tijd en ondertussen gaat Marion gewoon met Emily aan de slag en lopen onze gesprekken ook gewoon door.

vriendelijke groeten,

Nathalie Schlattmann, gz-psychologe/psychotherapeut

Dear Nathalie,

Further to a conversation with Carla van der Burg (AKM) on Monday 22 January, I hereby inform you of the following: I have talked to Ms van der Burg and she has notified me that she will be doing the investigation. I explained to Ms van der Burg that de Duif could have first contacted N. Schlattmann to which she agreed. It is not uncommon that schools directly contact AMK, however. Today, I asked Remedial Teacher Karen H. why she did not call N. Schlattmann first and she said that she wanted to; she had sent me an email to which I did not reply and this caused her to go ahead and report the case to the AMK. I question though, if they could not have called me or asked to teacher to talk to me. But what has been done cannot be undone, or it's no use crying over spilled milk and eventhough there are more graceful ways to handle, I will just accept the process and invite Nathalie in the loop.

To recap the more pressing reason for sending this mail:

Please Nathalie, contact Ms van der Burg under number 020 314 17 14. Please communicate in written words via FAx and not e-mail for privacy reasons: 020 314 17 41.
Please Dierk, could you kindly look into your agenda to visit Ms van den Burg on any day but the Wednesday. We have on the seventh of February an appointment scheduled with Schlattmann and Verwaal. As Ms van der B. is not available on this day, kindly see to it that you spend two days in Amsterdam.

For any further info, please copy any party mentioned in this mail.

Thanks,

Dear Ms van der Burg,

I thank you for the below mail. I hope that Dierk will not blame me for the below words. I spoke to him this morning and in this phonecall emotions were escalating to a point of possibly no return. The whole AKM affair is to him a sign that I failed and he would rather see the children with him. I need to be with my children as I am convinced that we can make it through therapy. The last point you mention that the parents need to be on one line is possibly the one point I focused on too much all these past years (in vain). Since the father is chipping off more and more money/emotional support each time we have a telephone call, I feel so assured that the only way to feel happy again is to protect myself from these phone calls with Dierk I wonder if mediation is not the only way for us. Please advise me in this. I have been trying to call the father as the kids were supposed to go on holiday to Munich but I guess that after this mail he is even more convinced of counter attacking. I cannot believe that a father is doing this to a mother who has always tried so hard and has always reached out for help. I have always been honest in telling the school and the world that it is a damn hard job, working, being all alone with no family around to help and no girlfriends or a boyfriend to relieve me once in a while.

I don't know if this mail is doing anything other than telling you a story of parents who fight and who destroy any bridge for the children to walk on. In my country, there are numerous, thousands of stories about mothers and fathers being on bad terms with one another and it is sad to see how the children grow up without the essential love between the ones who made them. I guess iwth the love of God and the strenght that lies in me to be a loving mother will pull the three of us through.

I thank you for the care and the attention and the belief in me as the mother as described in the below mail.

I will do my best for the sake of the children and for myself.

Regards,

Dear Mr. Thomas,

February 19th I had a meeting with your ex-wife Dominique.

In this conversation we talked about the results of the AMK intervention.

AMK concludes that we can speak of neglect of the children, due to the unstable situation the children lived in the first few years of their lives. As well as the fact that their mother suffered under a problematic childhood and their father, as a child, went through the divorce of his parents.

The exceedingly sexual behaviour of the children cannot be placed by AMK.

We think both parents are responsible for the neglect of the children, mentioned above.

As both parents are willing to organize help, AMK will give the following advice:

- The mother as well as the children need extensive therapy. For the children psycho-diagnostic investigation is necessary.
- It is in the interest of the children that they calm down, this means that, as far as AMK is concerned, they stay with their mother.
- It is in the interest of the children that they stay at the same school.
- It is in the interest of the children that their parents be on one level with each other. If it seems impossible for you both to accomplish this, you can both try to find someone who can intercede your communication.

I will also send this mail to your ex-wife, so you will both be posted up in this.

Sincerely,

C. van der Burg

Dominique,

this is now day number 7 that I am trying to speak to the children. You reply to emails but you do not answer the phone. Also you do not allow the children to answer the phone as they used to do.

Yesterday you hindered the children to congratulate their grandmother to her 70st birthday.

Please tell me where the children were over the last days and where they are right now.

I will report to the AMK as of tomorrow, if you do not put me in touch with the children by latest 20:00 today. I will ensure that the AMK report will lead to escalation to the next level above Carla van den Burg. I will subsequently start legal measures.

Dierk,

>From my side there are only practical things left to be done.

Please tell me on what days and what time you wish to call to the children.
Please limit these days to two at the most.
Please note that I will not send the children to you if you don't notify me two weeks in advance. This due to my planning a holiday with them.
Please do not fight with me anymore. Your presence yesterday in my home caused distress in all three of us. You have no idea. You know very well how much you fight with employees and partners and you aim for death. It sounds perhaps macabre but I believe you learned this from your father. You may well hide this chapter in your life but all things that are hidden are surfaced. You may well teach the children without you knowing how to fight to kill. This is also the reason that I no longer believe that you can receive them with a pure and loving heart. The kids sense everyting and they know that you and I are very ugly to one another.

I am very disappointed in your way of supporting. The only goodwill left >from your side is the stipend you send your children. I will now try to my own life and go forward without thinking about the bridge we once talked about.

We need to discuss which mediator we will take. Cathrien van Royen has offered to be a mediator. Pascale Robles de Medina is also available. I have another good lawyer who is wiling to do this for free. I am not sure if Nathalie has enough time to receive all these mails and answer them.

Dear Dominique,

Sorry, but I will not allow that you continue to tell something that has not happened.

I had only asked Tiger why he was saying that Michi pulled his ears. He said that he never said that, it was Emily who did say that. You, Dominique were then the one who called the children in and wanted an interrogation of this at the phone.

I am not asking the children anything for purpose of waging a war - I have no war.

I only ask the question upfront - what will happen if the situation has not changed in one year? - what if you are then still uncapable to educate and grow the children? It does not make sense to me to wait until in one year to then ask that same question. We should be crystal clear about that, i.e. the consequences of failure should be agreed upon already today.

I am not threatening, I am only logical.

And for the records, I am not shifting any visitation rights nor monies.

Please explain what you intend to say with your new allegations.

Kind regards,
Dierk

Just to let you know what bothers me:

Hours later I realise the following: The effects of today's phone call.
The children have been restless and fighting the whole day. Luckily Tiger went on a lovely b'day party so that I could give quality time to Emily. We played puzzles and sports all day.
The children were asked over the phone by Dierk what the truth was. He is asking the children for details to wage his war.
He told Emily to apologise to Michi. This Dierk has done to me loads of time; he loves to send me to apologise. I would like Dierk to talk light with the children and will ask AMK for advice on this.
Dierk has again threatened me to sign papers based on Nathalie's assessment of getting it straight in a year.
When I made an attempt to tell him that we are doing well, he said that he has no faith in me anymore and that I am ill and the one to blame. This tactic of his combined with the shifting of visitation rights and monies sent monthly, makes me desire no more contact.

I see now that this whole affair is become a family drama and I wish for measurements to be taken drastically to have Dierk limited in my environment. I no longer wish to sit with him in one room or meet him until he changes his tactics.
The conference call I will gladly have but I plead for rest and peace until that time.

Thanks Nathalie.

Dear Dierk Thomas and Dominique Heidweiller, father en mother of Emily and Tiger,

What I think is best is to have a conference call next wednesday at 21.00 with the three of us. This gives us the opportunity to discuss these important topics (by the way very common problems in divorced families).
My advice is till wednesday: stay calm en don't get involved with lawyers to much, cause my impression is that most of the times involving lawyers makes things worse for the children.
I hope this will work for the both of you and hope the two of you can make it on wednesday? Please let me know if you want me te keep this skype appointment for you.

kind regards,

Hello Dierk,

it was good to hear you talk with the kids over the phone. They did not mention it but I waited for your phone call. It would be nice to hear more regularly from you. Thank you for allowing me to work myself up in a positive spiral. I will not disappoint the kids and hopefully also we can be freinds again one day. It was good to see the children happy with Michi. It was good to hear Leo say Tige.

Dear Dierk/Nathalie/Michi,

Yesterday it dawned to me that I might collapse under all the pressure. Eventhough I am home, not working, the worries, the fears, the insecurities haunt me daily and this morning, I decided to tell Dierk the following. I will repeat this as he as asked me to put this on mail. As I doubt too much if I am a good mother, I often think that having the kids with the father is better for the kids(imagine having these thoughts shooting up regularly, daily!) . I regret to see that I have left a wasteland behind me(relationships) .

The past 8 years, I have been "imprisoned". I instead of things becoming easier as the kids are 6, but for me.. I wonder about things that I cannot seem to arrange for myself: job, a network of friends, my children happy and lucky, an understanding environment. I think that due to the pressure, I attack people but it is really defense turned offense. I see that I am constantly guarding, suspicious, paranoid, afraid that things go wrong and not for nothing as they go wrong regularly. I am very willing to take the blame for this wasteland and I would like to know how to repair them. Obviously, a sorry does not fix things. I am going to work on my fear, my paranoya and my insecurities that are visible to everyone. I would like to be the adult in this phase of my life and take full responsibilities, but those are just big words and the process will take years. What if more things go wrong. What if I just cannot combine work with child rearing. I regret that I am so blatantly open whenever I want to confront people and that I often ruin relationships that are dear to me. For some reason, I cannot seem to work myself back up. I may be too light for this job. Every morning though when I wake up I think to myself what a wonderful time and way to start my day. The children I love dearly, but now I look at them and think to myself, do they feel my pain, do they feel I am alone, will they become losers just like me and my brother. At the moment I feel very low self esteem. I wish that Dierk and Michi try to help me understand, talk more about possibilities. I cannot imagine what it feels to have your children grow up without you, but we could discuss it. Perhaps our plan will be so good that I will trust again. I sincerely need more people involved in the shaping of this possible solution. I would like to conclude by saying that I am willing to discuss where Tiger and Emily will be happiest or more balanced. If it is true that they copy everything I do, I need to change or get a better self image as I am totally lost. It seems that the negative spiral is making my life decisions; I would like to take such big life decision in therapy.

I tried to be strong, but how can I be strong and carry my twins right now? Okay, I have not felt so horrible in months, but I do believe that there is something that is not working and I don't know where to start if I have to do it all alone.

There is also something important I need to say. This month, Dierk, was one of the few times, you could not send me our money. This is so upsetting and frightens me so much that I need to make this into an issue. That is, perhaps it is a good idea to plan a move out of this expensive house. It is no use pretending we are middle class. I am going to have to find myself a little place for the three of us.

Well, I am shaking, have not slept the whole night. This will be my last words: Sorry for the wasteland. I implore you to brainstorm with me. Could we do it without feeling distrustful? So many things have happened, also from your side that were less pleasurable. This allowed me to lose all my trust. You have got the same. But how can you build up trust. If I can get a better relationship with the father by handing them to you, would it not be better for all of us?

Hello Michi,

Dierk is nowhere to be reached. He does not answer his phone or mail. All therapists involved are trying to contact him. Only last week he told me that he definitely wanted to talk to them and this face to face preferably.

In addition to the therapy, we also do not know (as he is not telling us anything) if we will receive money for the house this month.

Please could you have him contact me asap. I will give him till this Monday. If he does not mail me or call me before this time, I will hand over this whole affair to experts that will arrange the necessary for me Emily en Tiger. Hopefully we shall be able to work things out as I fear a permanent break.

I have also left you messages on your answering device. I understand that you don't want to call me but please just ask Dierk to call us.

Dierk,

The kids have spoken to you and they believe that you are coming to pick them up in Amsterdam right after your appointment with the BAscule. I tried to reach you this weekend and it is frustrating to see you not calling at all. Hopefully, the children will not be disappointed again. They cannot wait to be with you and to go to Italy this week. I have not been able to reach you and so I don't know what to pack and when. I am starting to think that you will not even bother to call but then again, we will see as there is just one disappointmetn after the other. YOu also promised me that I would get my money and last months' so I will not check this. My stomach is churning for the next disappointmetn.

Subject: IMPORTANT Your Meeting with Dominique Heidweiller Yesterday - Our Phone Call - Emily and Tristan Thomas
Importance: High
Sensitivity: Private

Geachte mevrouw Hogermann,

The content of our phone call yesterday alerted me and made me extremely worried.

I thank you very much for your diligence as 'de interne begeleider' of Emily and Tristan and for the care that you and the entire school De Duif show by triggering the necessary steps in ensuring a safe and sane development of our children.

From our phone call yesterday I understand that you and your collegues, Els Nuisker-Tijhuis, Emily's teacher Ellen van den Heuvel, Tristan's teacher Agaath Deurloo, as well as the psychologist Frouke Slijper and now Nathalie Schlattmann as GZ-Psychologist and Psychotherapist have observed and analyzed the behaviour of Emily and Tristan over the past months. You have come to the conclusion that there are potential signs of child abuse and have decided to inform the respective offices of the dutch authorities. You reported to me that both kids expressed themselves about their sexuality in an unusual way for children of their age and Emily had also told Ellen van den Heuvel that her mother hit her with a stick.

I understand that you had started to see an unusual stagnation of the cognitive development of Emily in early summer 2006. I was forwarded minutes of a meeting you had in regards to this by Dominique Heidweiller on 25 November 2006 (I attach those minutes for your info). I understood that in said meeting, the director of the school Ferdinand Holthuysen, the psychologist Frouke Slijper, you and Dominique participated. You had agreed to convene again on January 18, 2007 at 15:30, i.e. yesterday, as you did. From my capability of understanding written dutch language I did not see anything that pointed at potential child abuse. From this and earlier phone calls of Dominique I had understood, that there were worries about the stagnation and mis-development of the social intellect of Emily. Other emails Dominique forwarded to me pointed at problems that Emily started to have with her self-esteem, her relationship to her mother and her ability to socialize with children of the same age. It was also pointed at the problems arising >from our patchwork family, the changes of Au-Pairs in Dominiques house in the recent months and the development of Emily's dutch language capabilities, which was thought to come from the multi-language environment that Emily is growing up in. Until yesterday I was not aware that also Tristan's development was suspect.

Our phone call yesterday made me understand, that you and your collegues seem not aware that Domininique and I have agreed on shared responsibility for the care and education of Emily and Tristan. As confirmation of this legally and permanently valid agreement I attach for you a copy of the respective notarial deed (I am quite sure I won't need to translate written German for you, but please let know if you wish a translation). Dominique has an original of this deed as well. This agreement means, translated into practical life, that I must be involved in any important decision regarding Emily's and Tristan's life. It obviously also includes major obligations on my side, which I am fully aware of and which I have taken on and fulfilled since the birth of the children. Beyond those obligations I have also taken on a committment of a substantial monthly financial support of the children and their mother, which equals an average net salary plus much extraordinary additional financial support, adding up meanwhile to a sound five digit euro amount. I have the children with me as much as their vacations now allow, i.e. Emily and Tristan stay in average about 3 months per year with us. During that time I continue to financially support Dominique without any reductions and carry all additional expenses for the children, such as travel, sport classes, cloths, sports equipment and obviously all cost of living.

Please let me give you some background about my private and professional life: I believe it is helpful for you and whomever it concerns to know more about the father of Emily and Tristan, whom, as you know, we all call 'Tiger':

I am 43 years old, German National, eldest child in a family of 4 (+1) children, 3 sons, 1 daughter, plus 1 step brother in the new family of my father. My parents divorced when I was 16. I was married with my first wife for 7 years after we were together for 13 years, all in all 20 years. Dominique and I had 'let us call it an affair' starting in February 2000. Emily and Tiger were born in October 2000. Despite a separation of Dominique before we knew that she was pregnant, I decided as soon as we knew about her pregnancy that I would support her and the child (not yet knowing it were twins). I then decided to give us a chance to create a real family. Dominique and I lived then together for about 2. years. It turned out to be a very difficult relationship, which, despite the children, was an unbearable load for me. In 2002, when the children were about 21 months, I separated from Dominique. I left Dominique our house until she had taken a decision where to move to, which finally was Amsterdam. Until then we had 3 Au-Pairs assisting us with the children, two of them stayed with us for more than 1 year each, we are still in contact with both of them today. The first one 'Leila' joined us when the kids were about 3 months old, she was about 20 and came >from an acquainted Portuguese family. The second one 'Pinky' stayed with us (later then with Dominique and the children) through the separation, she was about 26 and came from South Africa, where I personally had offered her this job.

In 2003 I met my actual wife Michaela Thomas. We decided to marry in 2004 and have a son Leopold since June 2005.

I have an international education with schools in Germany, the USA and Canada. I served for 2 years in the German Army and was trained as officer specialized in creating and running telecommunication cells for the airborne division. I was promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant. I graduated at Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität in Munich as Diplom Kaufmann / MBA. I had a long carreer with the Siemens Group and acted as CFO for Siemens affiliated companies in America and Europe. I then started as Head of a consulting practice for Andersen Consulting's Strategy division. Within the first leveraged buyouts in Germany in 1999, I returned back to the industrial environment, acted again as CFO in the buy-out of a 10000 People business that formerly belonged to the Bosch group. Since 2002 I am running my own company that specializes in turn-around management of distressed companies or standard restructuring topics, including interim management.

My wife Michaela is 45 years old. She graduated at Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität as Magister Artem / Master of Creative Arts. Michaela today looks back on a successful carreer as TV Journalist. She focusses now on production, direction and / realization of TV Series and special events. All projects, which she can take on or refuse, depending on her interest and availablility.

We have managed to create a little home for our family in the south of Munich with with a wonderful garden and enough space for a family of five including Au-Pair and guests. We have been lucky in our life to conserve my former home in Italy, by the lake of Garda, which is still like home to Emily and Tiger, since it is where they grew up their first two years and have spent much time since. The nature of our professions allows mostly a very good coordination of time. We managed over the last 3.5 years to be almost without any exception able to take and integrate Emily and Tiger into our little family - whenever Dominique allowed or requested it. Now, only recently we focus on their vacation. Mostly, my wife and I were both together, at few occasions always one of us, personally available to take care of Emily and Tiger. We had always organized day programs. Since our son Leopold was born, we were supported by our Au-Pair 'Nair', a 25 year old German student from Brasil; we only had one this far. Our aim is to support Dominique as much as possible, so that she finally creates a stable basis for her own life, in terms of profession, income, friends and family. We are worried to see the hard times she is having to do this.

In the light of your findings and worries, I must request to be involved as close as possible in all further steps regarding Emily and Tiger, undertaken from hereon. Please let me know whom to contact at the respective offices of the dutch authorities you were going to involve in this matter. Please forward this email and the attachments to whomever you consider this concerns, but please -and I am sure you would do this anyway, whithout my explicit request- respect as much as possible our and the children's privacy.

The observations you and the above mentioned collegues made and the analysis of those, finally your report to me yesterday, have created big fears and worries. This is the worst nightmare a parent can have.

My wife and I wish to inform you and whomever this concerns, that we are standing by for personal meetings with you or whoever might be involved in the investigation of this matter. We are also standing by for the children, i.e. to enable to remove them from any potentially damaging environment, temporarily or for a longer period, always in case you and the respective specialists deem that this would be necessary or helpful. We are working closely together with Dominique on this and not doing this against her!

We wish to inform you, that we are not 'finger-pointing' at Dominique, the mother of Emily & Tiger, who we trust to care of the children as a mother would do. We know that the children can tell strange stories, which lack any core of truth. We do not think that Dominique would be hitting Emily with a stick. We also believe that Dominique undertakes everything in her power to ensure a safe and sane environment for the children. We are aware that Dominique has taken the decision to very broadly inform Emily and Tiger about their sexuality in the hope that this would give them sound protection from potential sexual abuse, based on the theory that giving the children the knowledge and language it would enable them to defense themselves and enable them to immediately report any such trial. There are many things that Dominique and we (my wife and I) disagree on - but that is very normal in society and any relationship. This does not mean we distrust Dominique.
We explicitely do not want to use this situation to create a disruption in this patchwork family. It took some while to get to such relative balance.

But, we wish to express to you our deepest worries. We ask you to continue your support with utmost diligence to inform the respective authorities about this matter and continue to request ultimate and urgent investigation into this matter until we all have full clarity.

We are in close discussion with Dominique about the next steps. We will continue to work together with her to achieve the best outcome for the children.

We have meanwhile contacted a Master of Pedagogy, specialized in educational psychology and children, teenager and family therapy, Monika Bacher here in Munich. We asked her for first advice in this matter. We have also requested to be put in contact with the actual Psychologist of Emily's, Nathalie Schlattmann, we will have a first conference call today at 12:30 with her.

Thank you for your availability at the phone number at 'De Duif'. I noted that you are best reachable Mon, Tue, Thu at about 11:00 am. It would be very kind of you if you would keep us informed about the development of this matter. We will do similar from our side. Please let us all work together in the best interest of Emily and Tiger.

Thank you for your attention!

With kind regards,
Dierk Thomas

As confirmation of this legally and permanently valid agreement I attach for you a copy of the respective notarial deed (I am quite sure I won't need to translate written German for you, but please let know if you wish a translation). Dominique has an original of this deed as well. This agreement means, translated into practical life, that I must be involved in any important decision regarding Emily's and Tristan's life. It obviously also includes major obligations on my side, which I am fully aware of and which I have taken on and fulfilled since the birth of the children. Beyond those obligations I have also taken on a committment of a substantial monthly financial support of the children and their mother, which equals an average net salary plus much extraordinary additional financial support, adding up meanwhile to a sound five digit euro amount. I have the children with me as much as their vacations now allow, i.e. Emily and Tristan stay in average about 3 months per year with us. During that time I continue to financially support Dominique without any reductions and carry all additional expenses for the children, such as travel, sport classes, cloths, sports equipment and obviously all cost of living.

Please let me give you some background about my private and professional life: I believe it is helpful for you and whomever it concerns to know more about the father of Emily and Tristan, whom, as you know, we all call 'Tiger':

I am 43 years old, German National, eldest child in a family of 4 (+1) children, 3 sons, 1 daughter, plus 1 step brother in the new family of my father. My parents divorced when I was 16. I was married with my first wife for 7 years after we were together for 13 years, all in all 20 years. Dominique and I had 'let us call it an affair' starting in February 2000. Emily and Tiger were born in October 2000. Despite a separation of Dominique before we knew that she was pregnant, I decided as soon as we knew about her pregnancy that I would support her and the child (not yet knowing it were twins). I then decided to give us a chance to create a real family. Dominique and I lived then together for about 2. years. It turned out to be a very difficult relationship, which, despite the children, was an unbearable load for me. In 2002, when the children were about 21 months, I separated from Dominique. I left Dominique our house until she had taken a decision where to move to, which finally was Amsterdam. Until then we had 3 Au-Pairs assisting us with the children, two of them stayed with us for more than 1 year each, we are still in contact with both of them today. The first one 'Leila' joined us when the kids were about 3 months old, she was about 20 and came >from an acquainted Portuguese family. The second one 'Pinky' stayed with us (later then with Dominique and the children) through the separation, she was about 26 and came from South Africa, where I personally had offered her this job.

In 2003 I met my actual wife Michaela Thomas. We decided to marry in 2004 and have a son Leopold since June 2005.

I have an international education with schools in Germany, the USA and Canada. I served for 2 years in the German Army and was trained as officer specialized in creating and running telecommunication cells for the airborne division. I was promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant. I graduated at Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität in Munich as Diplom Kaufmann / MBA. I had a long carreer with the Siemens Group and acted as CFO for Siemens affiliated companies in America and Europe. I then started as Head of a consulting practice for Andersen Consulting's Strategy division. Within the first leveraged buyouts in Germany in 1999, I returned back to the industrial environment, acted again as CFO in the buy-out of a 10000 People business that formerly belonged to the Bosch group. Since 2002 I am running my own company that specializes in turn-around management of distressed companies or standard restructuring topics, including interim management.

My wife Michaela is 45 years old. She graduated at Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität as Magister Artem / Master of Creative Arts. Michaela today looks back on a successful carreer as TV Journalist. She focusses now on production, direction and / realization of TV Series and special events. All projects, which she can take on or refuse, depending on her interest and availablility.

We have managed to create a little home for our family in the south of Munich with with a wonderful garden and enough space for a family of five including Au-Pair and guests. We have been lucky in our life to conserve my former home in Italy, by the lake of Garda, which is still like home to Emily and Tiger, since it is where they grew up their first two years and have spent much time since. The nature of our professions allows mostly a very good coordination of time. We managed over the last 3.5 years to be almost without any exception able to take and integrate Emily and Tiger into our little family - whenever Dominique allowed or requested it. Now, only recently we focus on their vacation. Mostly, my wife and I were both together, at few occasions always one of us, personally available to take care of Emily and Tiger. We had always organized day programs. Since our son Leopold was born, we were supported by our Au-Pair 'Nair', a 25 year old German student from Brasil; we only had one this far. Our aim is to support Dominique as much as possible, so that she finally creates a stable basis for her own life, in terms of profession, income, friends and family. We are worried to see the hard times she is having to do this.

In the light of your findings and worries, I must request to be involved as close as possible in all further steps regarding Emily and Tiger, undertaken from hereon. Please let me know whom to contact at the respective offices of the dutch authorities you were going to involve in this matter. Please forward this email and the attachments to whomever you consider this concerns, but please -and I am sure you would do this anyway, whithout my explicit request- respect as much as possible our and the children's privacy.

The observations you and the above mentioned collegues made and the analysis of those, finally your report to me yesterday, have created big fears and worries. This is the worst nightmare a parent can have.

My wife and I wish to inform you and whomever this concerns, that we are standing by for personal meetings with you or whoever might be involved in the investigation of this matter. We are also standing by for the children, i.e. to enable to remove them from any potentially damaging environment, temporarily or for a longer period, always in case you and the respective specialists deem that this would be necessary or helpful. We are working closely together with Dominique on this and not doing this against her!

We wish to inform you, that we are not 'finger-pointing' at Dominique, the mother of Emily & Tiger, who we trust to care of the children as a mother would do. We know that the children can tell strange stories, which lack any core of truth. We do not think that Dominique would be hitting Emily with a stick. We also believe that Dominique undertakes everything in her power to ensure a safe and sane environment for the children. We are aware that Dominique has taken the decision to very broadly inform Emily and Tiger about their sexuality in the hope that this would give them sound protection from potential sexual abuse, based on the theory that giving the children the knowledge and language it would enable them to defense themselves and enable them to immediately report any such trial. There are many things that Dominique and we (my wife and I) disagree on - but that is very normal in society and any relationship. This does not mean we distrust Dominique.
We explicitely do not want to use this situation to create a disruption in this patchwork family. It took some while to get to such relative balance.

But, we wish to express to you our deepest worries. We ask you to continue your support with utmost diligence to inform the respective authorities about this matter and continue to request ultimate and urgent investigation into this matter until we all have full clarity.

We are in close discussion with Dominique about the next steps. We will continue to work together with her to achieve the best outcome for the children.

We have meanwhile contacted a Master of Pedagogy, specialized in educational psychology and children, teenager and family therapy, Monika Bacher here in Munich. We asked her for first advice in this matter. We have also requested to be put in contact with the actual Psychologist of Emily's, Nathalie Schlattmann, we will have a first conference call today at 12:30 with her.

Thank you for your availability at the phone number at 'De Duif'. I noted that you are best reachable Mon, Tue, Thu at about 11:00 am. It would be very kind of you if you would keep us informed about the development of this matter. We will do similar from our side. Please let us all work together in the best interest of Emily and Tiger.

Thank you for your attention!

With kind regards,
Dierk Thomas
